Teemu Lang is the Chief Digital Officer (CDO) at Papula-Nevinpat. He is also a partner and member of the board of directors in the company.

Teemu initially started dealing with intellectual property matters in 2001 as an R&D engineer in a US-based electronics corporation where he was involved as a co-inventor in several inventions related to nanotechnology. He has also written a number of scientific papers in the field. His experience in IP matters includes identifying and handling inventions, and drafting and prosecuting patent applications.

In 2007 he was hired at Papula-Nevinpat as a patent specialist, and as the CDO he is currently responsible for developing new business models and digital services in our company. His responsibility area also includes improving the overall customer experience we deliver through our service. Teemu's special expertise includes business process automation.
